Description

This course examines the ways in which the media shape how we think about race. In doing so, this course will first explore the nature and construction of race. Second, it will examine the media establishment and its role in politics. Third, it will apply theories of media norms to explore how racial stereotypes of the four largest minority groups in the U.S. are created and perpetuated. Finally, this course will examine the effects of racialized media images on political processes.

Prerequisites

Twenty-four semester hours of college coursework, including Government 310L, and a passing score on the reading section of the Texas Higher Education Assessment (THEA) test (or an appropriate assessment test).

Required Text Books

There are two required text books for this course. Both books are available at the University Co-op.

Larson, Stephanie Greco. 2005. Media and Minorities: The Politics of Race in News and Entertainment. Lanham: Rowman & Littlefield.

Leighley, Jan E. 2003. Mass Media and Politics: A Social Science Perspective. Boston: Houghton Mifflin.

Supplementary Readings

Readings not found in the required texts can be accessed through Blackboard (courses.utexas.edu).

Grading

Your grade will be based on two exams, one term paper, and several pop quizzes/in-class assignments. The format for the two exams will be multiple choice and will cover the lectures, films, and readings. Exams will NOT be cumulative. Quizzes will be given at random and at any time during lecture. Frequently, I give quizzes at the beginning of class so be on time. If you miss a quiz because of tardiness, you CANNOT make it up. Each quiz/in-class assignment will be worth 5 points each. You will receive one point for just handing in a quiz/in-class assignment. Credit for the remaining 4 points is determined by the quality of your work. Your quiz/in-class assignment grade will be calculated by taking the total number of points that you have earned divided by the total number of points available minus one quiz. In other words, each student can miss one quiz without it counting against his/her grade. Your quiz grade is a weighted average (see below), with a maximum of 25 points. In the case of a conflict, please notify me ahead of time so that we can make alternative arrangements. Without prior notification and proper documentation, missed quizzes, assignments and exams cannot be made up. NO EXCEPTIONS. The weight of each assignment in determining your final grade is as follows:

Exam 1 (March 21)	25%
Term Paper (due April 11)	25%
Exam 2 (May 2)	25%
Quizzes and in-class assignments	25%

A	93-100	B+	87-89	C+	77-79	D	60-69
A-	90-92	B	83-86	C	73-76	F	0-59
		B-	80-82	C-	70-72

Term Paper

Your term paper will compare and contrast three movies that deal with race and/or ethnicity either implicitly or explicitly. Please select three movies (one from each time period) from the list below. Be sure to include how racial/ethnic minorities are depicted and which movie does a better job at treating race/racial issues. Term papers should be between five and eight pages in length. All term papers must be typed in a 12-point font, double spaced, and have margins no bigger than 1.25 inches. 'A' quality papers not only review the movies but discuss some of the history behind the movies, including drawing upon course materials to contextualize the films. Term papers are due on April 11th during class. Papers not handed in by the end of class on the due date will be considered late and will not be accepted.

Eligible Movies:

Pre-1970s
Sparkle (1976)

1980s-1990s
Platoon (1986)

2000s-2010s
The Blind Side (2009)

West Side Story (1961) Dances with Wolves (1990) The New World (2006)
One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Stand and Deliver (1988) Traffic (2000)
Nest (1975)
Chinatown (1974) Gung Ho (1986) Gran Torino (2008)

Citation

All papers require proper citation. When citing course material, please cite the original source, not the lectures. All sources must be cited; not citing sources will result in a grade penalty. The complete lack of citation and/or not having a bibliography will result in a zero grade for the assignment. This course will use the American Political Science Association citation style. The use of other citations styles will result in a grade penalty. Examples of the American Political Science Association citation style are available on Blackboard.

Note about Electronic Devices

Electronic devices (phones, laptops, tablets, mp3 players, etc.) may be used during class for academic purposes only. Students disrupting the class because of their use of electronic devices for non-academic purposes will be asked to leave class. Under NO circumstances may electronic devices be used during an exam or quiz. Students using electronic devices during an exam or quiz will be given a zero grade for that assignment.

University of Texas Honor Code

The core values of The University of Texas at Austin are learning, discovery, freedom, leadership, individual opportunity, and responsibility. Each member of the university is expected to uphold these values through integrity, honesty, trust, fairness, and respect toward peers and community.

Website

For class information and assignments please see the Blackboard site at courses.utexas.edu. Class notes WILL NOT be on Blackboard.

E-mail

No assignment is to be e-mailed to me or the TAs. Also, I regularly check my e-mail, but sometimes I am unable to respond quickly. Please allow one to two days for an e-mail response. In addition, please limit your e-mails to questions about class topics. Any grievances involving the class must be handled during my office hours. Please exercise proper e-mail etiquette (for etiquette tips see <http://www.101emailtipstips.com/101-email-etiquette-tips.pdf>). Finally, make sure to check the syllabus or Blackboard first before sending an e-mail. In many cases they will answer your question.

Excused Absences

An absence from class will only be excused if proper documentation is presented. In the case of an illness you will need to produce a note from the doctor stating that you could not attend class that day. Generic UHS slips will not be accepted. In all other cases you will need to provide documentation from the university. In the case of planned activities, the documentation must be presented to me at least a week before your scheduled absence. I will not accept a planned activity as a valid excuse for an absence after the fact. In the case of unexpected circumstances, the documentation must be turned in within a week of your return.

Q-Drop Policy

If a student wishes to Q-drop this class before 40% of the class has been completed, the student may do so. After 40% of the class has been completed whether or not the student receives a Q or an F will be based upon the student's grade at that point. This grade will include attendance.

Expectations

Meeting the goals of the class requires three things—attendance, preparation and professionalism.

Attendance—Although attendance is not mandatory, it is expected. Therefore, I find it unnecessary to formally take attendance. Nevertheless, missing class will greatly affect your grade. First, I frequently give pop quizzes and in-class assignments. Students that miss a quiz will receive a zero. Second, exams are based on a combination of the course readings, class lectures, and supplementary media presentations. Thus, missing class will greatly affect your grade.

Preparation—Doing well in this class necessitates that students are informed and prepared. Therefore, you will be expected to complete the readings prior to the first day we are scheduled to cover that topic. This course covers a large amount of material in a short amount of time. If you do not keep up with the readings, your grade will reflect it.

Professionalism—Remember that this is an academic environment. Therefore, I ask that you minimize unnecessary disruptions. This includes (but it is not limited to) side conversations, cell phone calls and the consumption of tobacco products. I also ask that you be proactive if any conflict occurs. This means notifying me ahead of time if you are unable to meet the requirements of the course.

Ground Rules

Because this course will sometimes deal with sensitive material, it is imperative that we set a series of ground rules.

1. Respect others. There will be times when you disagree with an idea that has been presented to the class. Although you have the right to disagree with someone, you must remember to challenge the idea and not the person.
2. Listen attentively. The purpose of this course is to present and discuss different ideas. In order to reap the benefits of such an exchange, you must be willing to pay attention to what others have to say.
3. Think before you speak. Refrain from making broad, general, and/or unsubstantiated comments. Make sure that you use evidence and provide a rationale for your statements.
4. Maintain the dignity of the academic environment. Your ideas should be presented using Standard English.
5. Raise your hand. This helps to maintain order in the classroom and helps to ensure that everyone has a chance to talk.
6. Be courteous. Refrain from interrupting or engaging in private conversation while others are speaking. Also, limit disruptive behavior, such as newspaper reading, personal grooming, etc.

Procedures for Dealing with Grade/Evaluation Concerns

Grade/evaluation concerns will only be considered if the following procedure is followed:

All grade complaints must be TYPED and must clearly express the student's specific concerns. These written statements must be accompanied by citations of support from course materials, i.e. readings, textbook, and/or lecture notes, in order to ensure accuracy. Written statements will not be considered until one week AFTER the assignment is returned to students. This allows the student time to reread his/her answers and think carefully about what improvements could have been made. Grievances will not be considered once two weeks have passed. For example, if I return a graded assignment on Monday, the student must submit a complaint BEFORE the Friday of the following week. Once class is over on that Friday, no complaints will be considered for that assignment. Since class time is limited, I will only deal with questions or concerns during scheduled office hours. Finally, submitting a grade grievance will result in a complete re-grade of the assignment.

Academic Dishonesty

According to the Institutional Rules, scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, collusion, and falsifying academic records. In the event that a student violates the University policy on scholastic dishonesty, he or she will be subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University. Since such dishonesty harms the individual, all students, and the integrity of the University, policies on scholastic dishonesty will be strictly enforced. For further information, please visit the Student Judicial Services web site at www.utexas.edu/depts/dos/sjs/.

Students with Disabilities

Students with disabilities may request appropriate academic accommodations from the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement, Services for Students with Disabilities, 471-6259, <http://www.utexas.edu/diversity/ddce/ssd/>.

Religious Holy Day Observance

By UT Austin policy, you must notify me of your pending absence at least fourteen days prior to the date of observance of a religious holy day. If you must miss a class, an examination, a work assignment, or a project in order to observe a religious holy day, you will be given an opportunity to complete the missed work within a reasonable time after the absence.

Emergency Evacuation Policy

In the event of a fire or other emergency, it may be necessary to evacuate a building rapidly. Upon the activation of a fire alarm or the announcement of an emergency in a university building, all occupants of the building are required to evacuate and assemble outside. Once evacuated, no one may re-enter the building without instruction to do so from the Austin Fire Department, University of Texas at Austin Police Department, or Fire Prevention Services office. Students should familiarize themselves with all the exit doors of each room and building they occupy at the university, and should remember that the nearest exit routes may not be the same as the way they typically enter buildings. Students requiring assistance in evacuation shall inform their instructors in writing during the first week of class. Faculty members must then provide this information to the Fire Prevention Services office by fax (512-232-2759), with "Attn. Mr. Roosevelt Easley" written in the subject line. Information regarding emergency evacuation routes and emergency procedures can be found at <http://www.utexas.edu/emergency>.
