Historiography of Twentieth-Century Latin America
History 386K/ LAS 386
Prof. Seth Garfield
Fall 2011, Fri., 1-4.
Office Hours, SRH 3.104A, Th, 10-12 or by appointment

Course Description:

This graduate course explores key topics in the historiography of twentieth-century Latin America: "modernity" and technological innovation; agro-export economies and foreign consumption; urbanization, industrialization, and the rise of the welfare state; disease, public health policies and eugenics; constructions of crime and social deviance; U.S. intervention in the Caribbean basin; revolutionary alternatives and Cold War counterinsurgency; the (trans)formation of racial and gender identities; transnationalism and international migration. Readings focus on case studies from discrete Latin American nations and are designed to introduce students to some of the primary topics of historical inquiry for the twentieth century.

Assignments:

On most weeks, students will write a short essay (2-3 pp.) in the format of a critical book review that highlights the author’s argument, research methodology, and historiographical contributions. Students are required to submit a total of 10 such reviews over the course of the semester. Each week, one student will be responsible for leading class discussion. S/he should present a brief overview of the author’s thesis and methodology and pose questions and/or critiques for further discussion.

For the class meeting on November 11, all students must write a short historiographical essay (2-3 pp.) that analyzes three of the essays in comparative perspective.

The final paper will consist of a historiographical essay that examines at least four texts to analyze divergences or overlaps in the treatment of a given historical theme. The selected topic should be one of those covered in class (and may make use of the required reading as one of the four texts) Students are encouraged to discuss their topics with me in advance.

Readings are available for purchase at the Co-op, and will also be on 24-hr. reserve at the Benson Library.

Schedule:
August 26  Intro: Historiography of Twentieth-Century Latin America

Sept. 2  Modernity and the Advent of the Twentieth Century
Stephen Kern, The Culture of Time and Space, 1880-1918

Sept. 9  Latin America and the Second Industrial Revolution: Trans-Atlantic Migration
José Moya, Cousins and Strangers: Spanish Immigrants in Buenos Aires, 1850-1930

Sept. 16  Agroexport Economies, Commodity Chains, and Environmental History
John Soluri, Banana Cultures: Agriculture, Consumption, and Environmental Change in Honduras and the United States

Sept. 23  U.S. Imperialism in the Caribbean Basin
Laura Briggs, Reproducing Empire: Race, Sex, Science, and U.S. Imperialism in Puerto Rico

Sept. 30  No Class

Oct. 7  Revisiting the Latin American Dictator
Richard Turits, Foundations of Despotism: Peasants, the Trujillo Regime, and Modernity in Dominican History

Oct. 14  Industrialization, Labor, and Gender
Ann Farnsworth-Alvear, Dulcinea in the Factory: Myths, Morals, Men and Women in Colombia’s Industrial Experiment

Oct. 21  Urban Inequality and Informality
Oct. 28  Crime and Social Marginality
Eduardo Sáenz Rovner, The Cuban Connection: Drug Trafficking, Smuggling, and Gambling in Cuba from the 1920s to the Revolution

Nov. 4  The State and Popular Culture
Rick Lopez, Crafting Mexico: Intellectuals, Artisans, and the State after the Revolution

Nov. 11  Revolution and Counterrevolution in Latin America

Nov. 18.  Public Health and Disease
Paul Farmer, AIDS and Accusation: Haiti and the Geography of Blame

Nov. 25  Thanksgiving

Dec. 2  Wrap-up

Dec. 9  Final Paper Due