History 350L
Dictatorship, "Dirty War," and Democracy in Latin America
Spring 2013

Instructor: Seth Garfield
sgarfield@mail.utexas.edu
Mezes 1.120
T/Th 12:30-2:00
Unique #39510
Office Hours: Tuesday, 2:00-4:00, SRH (LLILAS) 1.304A, or by appointment

Course Description:

This course explores the breakdown of democratic governments in Latin America in the 1960s and 1970s and the emergence of bureaucratic authoritarian regimes committed to economic restructuring, political demobilization, and the abrogation of civil liberties. It examines the use of torture, disappearances, and other counterinsurgency methods by Latin American military officials, as well as various forms of resistance, including guerrilla warfare. Finally, it looks at the transition to democratic rule, efforts to reconstruct civil society and forge political reconciliation, and the struggle for justice among the victims and families of victims of human rights abuses.

The course focuses on the histories of the nations of the Southern Cone (Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay) and seeks to address a number of questions. Why did some of the most "developed" nations in Latin America cede to such repressive governments?
How did authoritarian regimes legitimize their rule? How can we make sense of the atrocities committed? In what ways did citizens resist or acquiesce in the policies of military governments? What role did the United States play in offering economic, political, and military assistance to military dictatorships? Which factors spurred the military to relinquish power and what has been the nature of the transition to democratic rule? How can social peace and justice be best achieved in societies that experienced such trauma? How is this period of Latin American history remembered?

Flags:
Global Cultures:
This course carries the Global Cultures flag. Global Cultures courses are designed to increase your familiarity with cultural groups outside the United States. You should therefore expect a substantial portion of your grade to come from assignments covering the practices, beliefs, and histories of at least one non-U.S. cultural group, past or present.

Writing:
This course carries the Writing flag. Writing flag courses are designed to give students experience with writing in an academic discipline. In this class, you will write regularly during the semester, and a substantial portion of your grade is based on your written work.

Course Requirements:

Class Participation (20%)

Students are expected to participate regularly in class discussions. Students are allowed no more than two unexcused absence over the course of the semester. Students with more than two unexcused absences will suffer a significant reduction in their grade for class participation. Aside from failure to attend class, the following will also count as an unexcused absence: arriving at class more than fifteen minutes late or leaving prior to the termination of class (without the permission of the instructor). The use of laptops and other electronic equipment is not permitted in this class.

Written Assignments (5)

1. The first paper (3 pp.) will use at least three assigned sources to discuss three factors that contributed to the downfall of the Allende government. (15%)

2. The second paper, (3 pp.), will place the life of one of the victims or perpetrators of the Argentine Dirty War within larger historical context. Aside from the biographical information provided in the report Nunca Más, students will need to consult secondary literature to contextualize Argentine military ideology and objectives. The goal of this assignment is to explore the intersection between an individual life story and the larger social context in which s/he operates. Students will present their findings in class. (15%)

3. The third paper (3 pp.) will use three assigned readings to discuss the relationship(s) between gender and politics under military rule. (15%)

4. Two short response papers (each 1 p.) Students will be divided into 5 groups (G1-G5). Students in each group must respond to two assigned questions in the syllabus. (15%)

5. Final paper (5 pp.), assignment distributed the last day of class (20%)

Late submissions of any of the assignments will be penalized with the deduction of half a grade per day.

Readings:

Pamela Constable and Arturo Valenzuela, A Nation of Enemies: Chile under Pinochet

Ariel Dorfman, Death and the Maiden

Course Packet available at Speedway Copies: 715 W. 23rd St, Suite N 478-3334

All readings are also on 2-hour reserve at the Benson Library
Films:  [In-Class]
The Battle for Chile
The Disappeared
Four Days in September
Las Madres
The Americas
Chile: Obstinate Memory

Schedule:

Jan. 15:  Introduction.

Military Coups and their Historical Backgrounds
Jan. 17:

Pamela Constable and Arturo Valenzuela, A Nation of Enemies: Chile under Pinochet, 15-63
Paul H. Lewis, Guerrillas and Generals: the “Dirty War” in Argentina, 132-45

Think about similarities and/or differences in the historical background to military intervention in Chile and Argentina according to these authors.

Jan. 22:  The U.S. Role in Destabilizing the Allende Government

In-class document analysis from Peter Kornbluh, The Pinochet File: A Declassified Dossier on Atrocity and Accountability

Jan. 24  Film:  La Batalla de Chile (Part II)

Jan. 29:  Allende's Democratic Path to Socialism: A Historical Assessment

Assignment Due in Class: Using at least 3 assigned sources, discuss 3 factors which contributed to the downfall of the Allende government.  [Three double-spaced pages.]

In-Class Debate: Did Allende err in clinging to his belief in a democratic path to socialism?

Jan. 31: The Armed Left

Thomas C. Wright, Latin America in the Era of the Cuban Revolution, pp. 93-109

In-class Document Analysis: “Minimanual of the Urban Guerrilla” by Carlos Marighella

G1 Who joined guerrilla groups? What were their objectives, tactics, and miscalculations? (1 p.)

Feb. 5 Film: Four Days in September

Feb. 7 Film: Four Days in September (cont.)

In what ways does the film’s depiction of armed struggle resemble scholarly accounts?

"National Reorganization": Military Rule in the Southern Cone

Feb. 12 State-Sponsored Terror, Torture, and Disappearance

Corradi, Fagen, Garretón, Fear at the Edge, 39-71
Jacobo Timerman, Prisoner Without a Name, Cell Without a Number, 42-59
Constable and Valenzuela, A Nation of Enemies, pp 90-139

G2 What roles did the security forces assume under military rule?

Feb. 14 Argentina and the Voices of the Victims

Lewis, Guerrillas and Generals, pp. 147-62
That Inferno: Conversations of Five Women Survivors of an Argentine Torture Camp, pp. 59-101
Jacobo Timerman, Prisoner without a Name, Cell without a Number, pp. 3-11

G3 How did the victims of military rule experience state-sponsored repression?

Feb. 19 Religion and Repression

Mark Osiel, Mass Atrocity, Ordinary Evil and Hannah Arendt, 104-23
Feitlowitz, A Lexicon of Terror, pp. 103-26
G4 What were some of the connections between religion and repression in Argentina during the Dirty War?

Begin screening of The Disappeared

February 21 Film: The Disappeared

February 26 Profiles from Argentina’s Dirty War

Paper Two Due

In-Class Presentations (Reports from Nunca Más):
Rodolfo J. Walsh (367); Nora Stejilevich (69); Adolfo O. Sanchez (373); Adolfo Pérez Esquivel (382); Norberto Liwsky (20); M. de M.(48); Rubén Galucci (139); Omar Torres (150); Alice Domon (342, 353); Guillermo Oscar Segall (405) Daniel Antokoletz (143); Norberto Centeno (417); Christian Von Wernich (248); Carlos Casabona Sr. and Jr.(324) Adriana Calvo de Laborde (290) A.N.(47)

The second paper (3 double-spaced pp.) will place the life of one of the victims or perpetrators of the Argentine Dirty War within larger historical context. Aside from the biographical information provided in the report Nunca Más, students will need to consult at least 3 of the course readings to contextualize Argentine military ideology and objectives. The goal of this assignment is to explore the intersection between an individual life story and the larger social context in which s/he operates. Students will present their findings in class. (15%)

Scrutinizing the Agents of State Repression

Martha K. Huggins, Mika Haritos-Fatouros, and Philip G. Zimbardo, Violence Workers: Police Torturers and Murderers Reconstruct Brazilian Atrocities, pp. 136-60

G5 Based upon these readings, what do we understand about the formation and mentality of the agents of repression?

Military Projects for Restructuring Society

Mar. 5 Neoliberal Reform

Pamela Constable and Arturo Valenzuela, A Nation of Enemies: Chile under Pinochet, 166-246
In-class Debate: Pinochet’s Economic Policies and their Consequences

Mar. 7 The Brazilian Economic Miracle

In-Class Video, The Americas

Gender, Sexuality, and Politics under Military Rule

Mar. 19
Margaret Power, “Right Wing Women, Sexuality, and Politics in Chile under the Pinochet Dictatorship, 1973-1990,” in Paola Bachetta and Margaret Power, eds., Right Wing Women, pp. 126-68
Heidi Tinsman, “More than Victims: Agricultural Workers and Social Change in Rural Chile,” in Peter Winn, ed., Victims of the Chilean Miracle, pp. 261-87

G 1 How did gender serve as a medium for political and economic empowerment or disempowerment during Chilean military rule?

Mar. 21 Women’s Rights under Military Rule
Mala Htun, Sex and the State, 58-112

G 2 How and why did military governments in the Southern Cone seek to reformulate sexual politics?

Mar. 26 The Mothers of the Plaza de Mayo
Marguerite Bouvard, Revolutionizing Motherhood, 65-112

How were mothers of the disappeared in Argentina able to forge an opposition movement?

Mar. 28 Film: Las Madres

Third Paper Due (3 pp.): Based on at least 3 assigned readings, discuss three different types of gendered spheres or experiences under military rule. (15%)

April 2: Review of Student Writing: In-class Exercise

Human Rights in Latin America and U.S. Foreign Policy
April 4. U.S. Diplomacy and Human Rights
Debate: Was Carter’s human rights policy a success or a failure?

April 9 Historicizing the Human Rights Movement
James Green, We Cannot Remain Silent: Opposition to the Brazilian Military Dictatorship in the United States (selections)

Democratization and Transitional Justice

April 11 Transitions to Democracy in the Southern Cone
   Lewis, Guerrillas and Generals, 179-95
   Constable and Valenzuela, A Nation of Enemies, 296-320
   Thomas C. Wright, State Terrorism in Latin America: Chile, Argentina, and International Human Rights, pp. 141-71

G3 Reflect on the different factors shaping the process of democratic transition in the Southern Cone. Which similarities and differences mark the historical experiences of Argentina and Chile?

April 16: Ariel Dorfman, Death and the Maiden
   In-class re-enactment and discussion.

April 18: Truth Commissions and the Politics of Memory

   Priscilla Hayner, Unspeakable Truths, 32-38; 86-106; 170-82

G4 What are some of the questions these authors raised regarding the nature of truth commissions and/or historical memory in the aftermath of dictatorship?

April 23: Chile: Obstinate Memory

April 25: Memory, Meaning and Markets

In-class analysis and discussion of memory websites

April 30: Chile: Chipping Away at Impunity

   Wright, State Terrorism in Latin America, 179-215
   Madeleine Davis, ed., The Pinochet Case: Origins: Progress and Implications, 1-6; 191-230

G5 Discuss the historical background and implications of Pinochet’s arrest in London.

May 2 "Missing": The Charles Horman Case
   Guest Presentation: Nick Scott.

   Final essay assignment (5 pp.) handed out.

May 9 Final essay due by 5PM at History Office, Garrison 101.