Teaching Assistant, Rob Brill

This course will examine the major economic, political, and sociological developments of Brazil in the 20th and 21st centuries. It will concentrate on the broad themes of state-led industrialization and economic management; the alternation of authoritarian politics and democratic government; and the multiple problems brought on by high levels of socio-economic inequality. In addition to the many challenges that Brazil faces, the course will also examine the many opportunities the country has.

The political topics to be covered include the institutions that allow elites to retain power and privilege. Economic topics include recent moves toward increased globalization and the tapping of Amazonian resources. Sociological subjects include the high rates of crime and related problems that have arisen from the pursuit of a development model that has led to extreme concentrations of wealth and record levels of income inequality.

The course assumes no prior knowledge or prerequisites.

Two books are required and are available for purchase at the University bookstore. All other readings are available on Blackboard under Course Documents.

Requirements and Grading:
Reading is due by the Tuesday session of each week. It is imperative that students do the readings, reflect upon them, and come to class prepared to discuss them. Class participation, which goes beyond simple attendance, will be a significant factor in the final grade. There will be one quiz, two in-class examinations, an essay about a film, and a final take-home essay that reflects upon the course as a whole. Please bring a blue book to both exams. The instructions for the film essay are on Blackboard. I will hand out questions and instructions for the final essay well in advance of its due date.

Grading: This course will use plus/minus grades.

Your final grade will be calculated as follows: we will sum all the points you received in the class and convert them into letter grades based on the following scale:

- 93-100 = A
- 90-92 = A-
- 87-89 = B+
- 83-86 = B
- 80-82 = B-
- 77-79 = C+
- 73-76 = C
- 70-72 = C-
- 67-69 = D+
- 63-66 = D
- 60-62 = D-
- Below 60 = F

Without exception, we will round up scores of 0.5 and higher and round down scores of less than 0.5. Students who wish to contest a grade must do so in writing within two weeks of the day on which the assignment was handed back in class. Students must go first to one of the TAs and then to the professor only if the meeting, scheduled after receipt of the written appeal, was deemed unsatisfactory.

Attendance will be accounted for as part of your class participation grade.

The final essay must be submitted at the beginning of the last class session. There is a penalty of a full letter grade per day for late essays (both the film essay and the final essay). We will not accept papers that are submitted via e-mail.
Make-up policy: Students are expected to take the quiz and two in-class exams on the scheduled dates, and to hand the film essay and final essay in on time. Make ups and extensions will be reserved for the most exceptional of circumstances, such as a serious medical illness (accompanied by a physician’s letter) or death of a close family member. You must have documentation in order for a make up to be considered. Weddings and graduation ceremonies will not be considered an acceptable basis for any missed examinations or an extension on the final.

Students are expected to understand and adhere to all University regulations about cheating. Students will also be expected to observe all University procedures and deadlines for withdrawals.

Students with disabilities may request appropriate academic accommodations from the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement, Services for Students with Disabilities, 471-6259, http://www.utexas.edu/diversity/ddce/ssd/

A notice regarding academic dishonesty: You should all be familiar with the UT Honor Code (or statement of ethics) and an explanation or example of what constitutes plagiarism (see the University Honor Code: http://registrar.utexas.edu/catalogs/gi09-10/ch01/index.html if you have any doubts about what constitutes cheating or plagiarism).

Religious Holidays: By UT Austin policy, you must notify me of your pending absence at least fourteen days prior to the date of observance of a religious holy day. If you must miss a class, an examination, a work assignment, or a project in order to observe a religious holy day, you will be given an opportunity to complete the missed work within a reasonable time after the absence.

No laptops or cell phones will be permitted in class. No texting!
