THE STORY: As the play begins, Bette and Boo are being united in matrimony, surrounded by their beaming families. But as the marriage progresses, it becomes increasingly clear that things are not working out quite as hoped for. The birth of their son is followed by a succession of stillborns; Boo takes to drink; and their respective families are odd to say the least. The cast of characters includes a senile father who mutters in gibberish, a sister who suffers immense guilt over her imagined transgressions, and a priest who impersonates a strip of frying bacon. This hilarious and inventive dark comedy moves through three decades of divorce, alcoholism, madness, fatal illness and death, all with a wit that reveals the irony and humor in these incredibly unhappy events.

Plan II Paid Internship at the LBJ Library and Museum
Deadline: Tuesday, April 30

Plan II Honors students are invited to apply for internship positions at the LBJ Library and Museum. This internship program will be active during the fall 2013 and spring 2014 semesters and would be a great opportunity for any student interested in history, government, politics, international affairs, domestic affairs, public policy, and education. The time commitment is 10 hours per week each semester. This internship opportunity is paid; the student selected will receive a $1500 stipend each semester sponsored by both the Plan II Honors Program and the LBJ Library and Museum. Note: to receive the stipend, the intern must be enrolled in at least six credit hours during the fall and spring semesters.

The 2013-2014 intern will be asked to work in the Archive Division and would assist with the development of the Library's website and social media, help with reference requests from the public, and provide support for our Reading Room operations. Some possible project examples include:
- Assist with reference in the archival holdings
- Perform systematic preservation in the archival holdings
- Prepare finding aids to be posted on the Library’s web site
- Edit databases to standardize entries for the web
- Do research for web exhibits

Preferred Qualifications:
- Coursework in History or Government (a plus)
- Demonstrated organizational skills
- Demonstrated regular and punctual attendance at work and professional demeanor
- Knowledge and interest in U.S. history (a plus)
- UTeach student or College of Education student (a plus)

TO APPLY – DEADLINE, APRIL 30, 2013 - All applicants should provide the following:
- A one-page resume
- A letter from the applicant describing his/her interest and qualifications

The role of Peer Advisors is to help welcome first-year Plan II students into the program and adjust to college life. Peer Advisors also assist first-year students with issues such as course selection, scheduling, and understanding Plan II requirements, as well as time management, testing and placement strategies, course and teacher evaluations, procedures on adding and dropping, university resources, and extracurricular activities.

REQUIREMENTS: Good academic standing in Plan II (overall GPA of 3.25 or higher); enthusiasm for helping younger students; comfortable with navigating and explaining University resources and degree requirements.

Plan II Debates NRA
Monday, May 6 from 6-8 p.m.
CLA 0.126

Plan II Parliamentary Debate will host a public debate against the NRA’s Manager of Political and Legislative Activities, Suzanne Anglewicz, on the evening of Monday, May 6. The debate will center around the extent to which the Second Amendment affords the individual right to keep and bear arms, with Zachary Stone (Plan II student, President of the organization) arguing that the Second Amendment is archaic. If you have any questions that you would like asked at the debate, please e-mail them to Zachary Stone at planiiparliamentarydebate@gmail.com. Please indicate if the question is for Zachary, Mrs. Anglewicz, or both. Also, please e-mail if you are interested in specific arguments or otherwise getting involved.

Plan II Paid Internship Position at LLILAS for the 2013-2014 Year
Apply by: ASAP

The Teresa Lozano Long Institute of Latin American Studies is a multidisciplinary institute that integrates several centers and programs devoted to promote interest in the region. LLILAS is the oldest Latin American Studies program in the United States and one of the best worldwide.

Plan II and LLILAS have partnered to offer a paid internship program designed to provide Plan II students with the... opportunity to gain professional experience by learning about the work of multiple programs within LLILAS or to develop research skills by working with some of our most distinguished Latin Americanist faculty. The internship would be a great opportunity for those students interested pursuing graduate degrees or working in Latin American affairs; international public policy, international education as well as in any Social Sciences discipline. The position is not benefits-eligible, but there is a stipend of $1500 per semester, for which the intern is expected to put in a 10-hour work week during the fall and spring (schedules are negotiated with the respective supervisor).

APPLICATION DETAILS:
LLILAS currently has internship openings in several offices/programs (details below); only one student will be selected for the paid Plan II internship position. Students who are not selected for the paid Plan II position may be offered an unpaid internship position. Please review each of the job descriptions below and indicate which specific position you are applying for on your application. You can apply to more than one, but if you do, please rank them in order of preference.

Please e-mail all application materials to Paloma Diaz between April 10, 2012 and April 25, 2013 (we encourage early applications and will begin interviewing applicants as soon as possible). The application package should include: (1) a résumé indicating language and computer skills; (2) a cover letter stating why you are interested in the position or positions (including research topics or disciplines of interest); (3) information about your spring semester and available hours; and (4) the name and contact information of at least two UT faculty members or previous employers who are willing to provide us with references. (Note: The LLILAS Research Internship also requires a copy of your transcript.)

CURRENT LLILAS INTERNSHIP OPENINGS:
Development Office
The Development Office coordinates fundraising efforts for LLILAS, including major gifts, annual giving, alumni relations, and special events. We are looking for an intern who can help us implement a series of activities related to these goals. Duties include (a) assisting with alumni communications; and (b) helping to coordinate special events and programs for donors and other supporters, including receptions and talks. Intermediate to advanced proficiency in Spanish and/or Portuguese is a plus.

Multimedia and Video Production
This internship position will help us to enhance our multimedia resources (videos and audio podcasts), and interns will gain the opportunity to showcase their work through our website and social media outlets. Interns will be in charge of filming our events and producing a series of short clips featuring our scholarly activities, including interviews with faculty, visiting professors, or students, highlights of public programs, etc. Duties include filming and video production (video and/or audio editing, preparation of graphics, titles, translation subtitles, music, and photos) plus audio podcast editing and mixing. Candidates should have access to all the necessary equipment including cameras, mikes, and appropriate software. Applicants should submit a cover letter, résumé, and online portfolio with sample of videos produced.

Office of the Directors
The Office of the Directors provides administrative, planning, and coordination support to the institute’s Director and Associate Director. In addition, the office serves as the main interface between the institute and faculty, students, and public and private entities. These initiatives take the form of conferences, workshops, and special projects headed by both directors, and take place within the university as well as locally and internationally. The Office of the Directors seeks an intern to assist in daily administrative activities as well as coordination support for several of the initiatives and special projects that will take place during the semester. Basic knowledge of Word and Excel is also required.

Photography
The intern would provide photographic coverage of selected LLILAS public events and other LLILAS programs as needed. This internship represents a great opportunity for broadening your experience: selected photos can be posted on our website and our social media sites or used in our publications (work will be credited). Successful candidates should have experience taking high-resolution digital photographs and should have access to a high-quality digital camera. Access to other photographic equipment, such as a variety of lenses, tripod, and flash, is a plus. The candidate should also have basic experience with photo editing.

Public Engagement
LLILAS Public Engagement has built a nationally recognized program that extends university expertise to K–12 education, businesses, community organizations, and the public at large. Public Engagement delivers new knowledge, dismantles common misconceptions, and fosters cross-cultural dialogue. We seek interns who have a passion for Latin American Studies and want to help others learn about the region. Duties will focus on research and resource gathering for the development of new K–12 curriculum units and teacher training modules; participating interns will receive credit in published materials for their contribution. Applicants should be able to demonstrate strong organizational and research skills. Basic knowledge of Word and PowerPoint is required; new media skills are a plus.

Research
LLILAS is recruiting UT undergraduate students to work with UT faculty during the spring 2013 semester. Our Latin Americanist faculty produce cutting-edge research on a broad range of topics and disciplines and help to maintain the academic leadership of the institute. Duties may include literature research and review; data manipulation, analysis, and interpretation; organization of research materials (data, texts, articles); other related duties assigned by faculty. Successful candidates will be paired with faculty according to their specific areas of interest. Previous research experience is a plus, as is intermediate to advanced proficiency in Spanish and/or Portuguese.

Scholarly and Public Programs
LLILAS Scholarly and Public Programs constitute a broad range of initiatives, including academic events such as conferences, lectures, and workshops; collaborations with Latin American institutions; visits of foreign delegations; and receptions, performances, and social media activities. We are seeking interns to provide logistical support for all the stages of the planning and implementation of such initiatives. Duties include assistance in publicity, travel, and catering arrangements; preparation of materials; management of databases and Internet research; translation of short documents (e.g., correspondence, bios, website information); and clerical support as Before seniors can register for the Plan II Course (TC 660HA), they must complete the Thesis Registration Form: Part 1. This form must be approved in person during a meeting between the student and either Plan II Acting Director Alexandra Wettlaufer or Plan II Associate Director Paul Sullivan. The Part 1 form deadline for Fall 2013 registration is Friday, April 12th. Students should bring their Part 1 form with them to meet with either Dr. Wettlaufer or Dr. Sullivan during their posted Spring office hours in the Plan II office (check-in at receptionist desk):

Dr. Alexandra Wettlaufer: T/Th 9 am - Noon and by appointment
Dr. Paul Sullivan: M/W 2-5 pm and F 9 - 11:30 a.m. (March 18-May 4 only)

Become a Student Ambassador for the Office of Undergraduate Admissions
Apply by: Friday, April 19 at 5 p.m.

Are you the biggest longhorn fan you know? Then join our team! The Office of Undergraduate Admissions is seeking to hire enthusiastic student ambassadors to start in either the summer or fall. Student ambassadors lead campus tours for hundreds of prospective students every week, serve as the student representatives and face of UT at large-scale recruitment events, and show our love for the University at every chance we get. We are a close-knit and diverse group of students who represent a wide range of majors, backgrounds, interests.

This is a part-time, paid position on campus. We will be hosting four information sessions during the month of April for those interested in being an ambassador. They will take place on the following dates: April 11, 16 and 17 at 5:30 PM in John Hargis Hall, and April 14 (Sunday) at 2:30 PM in Walter Webb Hall. You must attend at least one information session in order to apply. The info session will include an explanation of the job, the professional and personal benefits of being an ambassador, and the application process. This will be followed by a Q&A with current ambassadors. If you cannot attend an info session, you must stop by John Hargis Hall (The Admissions Center) or Walter Webb Hall (The Visitor Center) at any time to speak with a senior ambassador.

The final application deadline will be 5 pm on Friday, April 19th. All interested undergraduate students are encouraged to come to an info session to find out more about the position. Feel free to contact any Senior Ambassador with any questions you may have at admambassadors@gmail.com.

McNair Scholars Program Recruitment
Deadline: Friday, April 19

The UT McNair Scholars Program is currently recruiting new students for the spring semester. McNair Scholars is a federally funded program under the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement with the goal of increasing the number of students earning doctoral degrees who are both low-income and first-generation and/or traditionally underrepresented in graduate education.

All McNair Scholars obtain a faculty mentor who will help them identify a research topic and develop a research project, while at the same time actively engaging in program workshops, GRE prep, seminars, research conferences, and individual and academic advising. Students will also be eligible for a $1,000 scholarship each semester they are active in the program and a stipend of up to $2,800 when they participate in the Summer Research Institute.

The deadline for our application is Friday, April 19th, 2013. An information session will be taking place on Wednesday, April 3rd from 4:00 – 5:00 pm in SSB 4.212. Recruitment flyers have been mailed to your offices and we hope you can spread the word to eligible students who are interested in research and graduate school. More information and the application can be found at www.UtMcNairScholars.com.

Program Duration:
July 8th – 30th, 2013
Monday – Friday, 10am – 1pm

Background:
The UT International Office has been selected by Meridian International Center to host the 2013 Iraq Young Leaders Exchange Program (IYLEP) for Leadership, Law & Social Justice. 25 undergraduate students from Iraq will tavel to UT Austin for 6 weeks during July-August 2013 and take part in an academic and cultural summer institute.

Through case studies of different civil rights and social justice movements, students will learn about both the successes and failures of these endeavors throughout U.S. history and identify ways young leaders can work to build bridges between diverse populations to promote community development.

Course Description:
This course has been designed to explore major civil liberties and human rights themes in depth, both historical and temporary, and how leaders in the U.S. and around the world have worked to promote social justice. Through readings, interactive discussions, and case studies students will gain tools to enhance their own participation in communities and the larger civil society.

Course Instructor:
Jim Harrington, a human rights attorney with nearly four decades of experience, is founder and director of the Texas Civil Rights Project. He graduated from the School of Law at the University of Detroit, from where he also holds a Masters in philosophy. He has taught at the University of Texas School of Law as an adjunct professor for twenty-six years.
Harrington has handled landmark civil rights cases, written and published widely, and served on human rights delegations in different areas of the world.
In 1990, Harrington founded the Texas
Civil Rights Project, a statewide community-based, non-profit foundation that promotes social, racial, and economic justice and civil liberty, through litigation and public education, for low income and poor persons. Harrington has handled landmark cases involving privacy, voting rights, free speech and assembly, and the rights of persons with disabilities and overseen the publication of twelve reports on human rights in Texas.

Responsibilities:
We are looking for eight
(8) Undergraduate Students to participate alongside visiting students from Iraq during the 2013 IYLEP program. You will attend class daily with the IYLEP cohort and are expected to participate in class discussions and complete all assigned readings and coursework. You will have the opportunity to attend optional intercultural programming outside of the classroom.

Attendance:
You are expected to attend 90% of courses (absent from no more than 2 sessions).

Requirements:
- Must be currently enrolled in an undergraduate program at UT
- Excellent interpersonal communication skills
- Excellent organizational skills
- Work well independently and with teams
- Residing in Austin during program dates (July 8 – 30)
- Familiarity with UT campus resources
- Demonstrated leadership experience in a cross cultural context (preferred)

It is possible that students may earn Independent Study credit upon approval from their academic department.

Tuition & fees are covered at the student’s own expense if they choose to earn credit.

How To Apply:
Please send a letter of interest to awhatley@austin.utexas.edu by April 25, 2013.

Apply for the Tunis Exchange
Apply by: Saturday, April 20

The Exchange is a dynamic and intensive program for students, professionals, and post-professionals interested in broadening their understanding and expertise in issues related to the Middle East and North Africa. The four-week course (June 14-July 12) will immerse our participants in the language and politics of the MENA region, with a particular emphasis on direct engagement with leading academic, political, intellectual, and religious figures active across the spectrum in Tunisia. Application deadline is APRIL 20, 2013.

The Exchange is an effort by Mideastwire.com and its partners to promote direct engagement and understanding through a variety of city-focused conferences. Since 2008 we have hosted Exchange programs in multiple cities, including Istanbul, Damascus, and Beirut. This summer marks our third session in Tunis, and an expansion of The Exchange that includes language courses as well as an opening conference with the International Crisis Group (www.crisisgroup.org).

Opening weekend of The Tunis Exchange will begin with a two-day conference (June 15-16) led by more than a dozen country experts, analysts, and directors from the ICG. This opening conference may be attended separately or in conjunction with the month-long politics session. Additionally, we will be conducting formal and Tunisian dialect Arabic classes for all levels throughout The Exchange. For more information, including program details, costs, and media coverage of The Exchange, please visit www.thebeirutexchange.com. To request an application or address any questions, contact info@mideastwire.com. If you have any questions, please contact Katy Hamill at KatyHamill@gmail.com. See attached poster for more info.

Internship opportunity with Private Equity firm
Apply by: ASAP

Rosewood Private Investments is looking for sophomores and juniors to fill an internship position this summer for an undergraduate analyst. The position is unpaid, but interns will gain valuable experience in finance and business. Interns would assist a small-sized private equity firm in building out a thematic investing approach, which will include primary and secondary research and work on private equity transactions as they occur.

Interested applicants should send a CV to Tyler Rudman at Tyler Rudman at trudman@rosewoodpi.com. Feel free to contact Tyler to learn more about the position.

Andy Roddick Foundation seeks Communication Intern
Apply by: Tuesday, April 30

The Andy Roddick Foundation (ARF) is looking for a talented and highly motivated writer to help with external communications. Simply put, we’re looking for someone with a talent for converting complex concepts into easy-to-understand text. This position will require the eloquence of prose and the precision of technical writing.

Most of our writing assignments will involve one of two things: (1) preparing press releases, marketing documents, and website content related to ARF news, or (2) reviewing existing materials to optimize messaging and storytelling.

Candidate Must Possess:
- Exemplary writing skills
- Ability to respond tight deadlines and to quick turnaround requests for review or written samples as needed
- A passion for youth-services and non-profit organizations
- High attention to detail
- Ability to work well with the ARF team
- College of Communications and/or English major strongly preferred

Time Requirements:
- Two to five hours per week
- In office presence not required; can work to support us in any location

Compensation:
This is an unpaid internship

Application Instructions:
To apply, submit resume, unofficial transcript, and three writing samples (each 1 page or less) to Holly Krivokapich at holly@arfoundation.org

Application Deadline:
Posting closes on April 30, 2013 at 11:59pm

Pre-Graduate School Internship

Are you thinking about whether graduate school is in your future? Are you uncertain about what it would be like to be a graduate student and what academic program may be suited best to your interests and career goals?

If your answer to these questions is yes, you may wish to consider undertaking the Intellectual Entrepreneurship (IE) "Pre-Graduate School Internship." This internship is open to students in all UT colleges/schools and departments. You may earn one, two or three hours of academic credit (CMS 164M/264M/364M) by participating in the internship.

You may read more about this program (including FAQ's, examples of internship activities and an easy to complete internship contract) on the web: http://communication.utexas.edu/ie/

A wonderful UT web feature about this internship program is at: http://www.utexas.edu/features/2008/ie-2/
USEFUL MISCELLANY

About Plan2News
Plan2News is published on Tuesdays and Fridays during the semester for students currently registered in Plan II and others associated with Plan II who send their e-mail addresses to planinewsletter@austin.utexas.edu. News items for the letter include announcements from the Plan II office and the Plan II Student Association and performances and exhibits by Plan II students.

Read the newsletter to learn about courses, registration, advising, job opportunities and special events.

Submitting to Plan2News
Please keep in mind that although Plan2News enjoys a substantial and diverse readership, its circulation is still relatively small. It should not be relied upon as the sole advertisement for a position or an event. To reach a wider audience, please use university-wide electronic and paper advertising outlets.

Personal and political announcements will not be published in Plan2News. Job and internships announcements must be sent to the Liberal Arts Career Services office, after which they may be considered for publication in the newsletter.

To place a news item in Plan2News, you must do the following:
• Type your news item in the body of an e-mail to planinewsletter@austin.utexas.edu.
• In the subject line, write “Plan2News” exactly.
• Give the name of a contact person with phone number or e-mail address.
• Provide an activity date or a deadline.
• Do not use “we” or “I.” Please write your submission in third person.
• Write in complete sentences and use correct grammar.
• News items will run until your deadline or through two issues of the newsletter if no deadline is provided.
• The text of submitted newsletter items (including job and internship postings) must be fewer than 150 words, not including headline and contact information. Please edit your entries to this length before submission. An overly lengthy entry will be returned to its sender and will not appear until this standard is met.
• Send your news item to planinewsletter@austin.utexas.edu no later than 2 p.m. on Monday (for the Tuesday letter) or 2 p.m. on Thursday (for the Friday letter). The 2 p.m. deadline is final. Do not send your message to any other address. No one else can approve news items for inclusion in the Plan II newsletter and no other address will be used to receive entries.
