Looking at Archives

1. Read the letters between Anne Sexton and W.D. “De” Snodgrass. Take note of lines that you think Anne Sexton wouldn’t want to share with the public and lines that you think have academic merit and should be shared.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Line</th>
<th>Explanation</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2. Following the Archival Citation Template, chose a letter to cite:
In your opinion, who has the right to determine what is included in an archive and how/when to share it? Explain!

________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________

Looking at Archives - Exit Ticket

In your opinion, who has the right to determine what is included in an archive and how/when to share it? Explain!

________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________

Looking at Archives - Exit Ticket

In your opinion, who has the right to determine what is included in an archive and how/when to share it? Explain!

________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________________________________