MAJOR GRANTS RECEIVED

2000-2001: Faculty Research Assignment. University of Texas at Austin ($32,000) The Expanded Classroom

1994 (Spring Semester): University of Texas Research Institute Award
($27,800) Half of Literacy

PURPOSE: Assistance for completion of the book-length manuscript Half of Literacy.

RESULTS: A book-length manuscript currently being reviewed by the MLA for their series on teaching of literature. The completion of this book, introducing the heuristics of Reading for Meaning to general English and humanities curriculum, was made possible by the semester's leave.

1990 (Spring Semester): Department of the Navy Fellow, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, MD

1987 (Spring semester): University of Texas Research Institute Award
($20,897.00) "Reading for Meaning"

PURPOSE: Assistance for work on Reading for Meaning: An Integrated Approach

RESULTS: The review of current literature in second language reading theory was completed in this period and was incorporated into the finished manuscript, thus informing previously done theoretical work, some of which has already appeared in print in article form. The completion of this project would not have been possible without a semester's leave of absence.

July, 1983: Fulbright-Hays Landeskunde Seminar

Berlin and Bonn, FRG; five weeks, full stipend and transportation

1977-80: National Endowment for the Humanities Program Grant ($135,966)
"From Listening to Reading Comprehension: Integrating Comprehension Skills in Foreign Language Learning at the College and Secondary School Levels"

PURPOSE: To introduce a first-year course of foreign language instruction in four high schools; develop an existing first-year experimental program at the college level to replace the four-skills foreign language learning approach with a listening/reading emphasis approach. Objectives: 1) to enable a large number of students with disparate foreign language aptitudes to succeed in achieving a high level of listening/reading comprehension in German; 2) to improve student attitudes towards learning German.

RESULTS: eight papers, one of which received the Pimsleur Award for an outstanding contribution to the field of foreign language research; the project lent momentum to current interest in reading and listening comprehension and highlighted communicative aspects of language teaching currently recognized in the proficiency movement

-NEH Final Grant Report, #ES-27233-77-243: "From Comprehension to Production: Developing Materials for a Rationalist Approach to Language Learning"; January, 1981 (24 pp.), unpublished

1973-74: University of Texas Research Institute Grant ($11,157)

"Androgyny and German Drama"

PURPOSE: Assistance for a study entitled Androgyny and German Drama

RESULTS: Two chapters, used as speeches and/or articles; research and writing of revisions and additional sections requested by publisher for Literarische Zeitschriften (published 1975)

1972-73: University of Texas Research Institute Grant ($1770)

"Literarische Zeitschriften 1945-1970"

PURPOSE: Research assistant for work with German publisher (Metzler) on a handbook on German literary journals in the post-war period

RESULTS: Literarische Zeitschriften 1945-1970, over 4000 copies sold; reviewed in major German newspapers, including Die Welt

1971-1972: University of Texas Research Institute Summer Travel Grant ($1000)

"Literarische Zeitschriften 1945-1970"

PURPOSE: Travel to Germany for research on literary magazines to complete handbook on German literary journals
