In this issue:

Fall Calendar
Incorporate international holidays and celebrations into your classroom. In this issue, Hemispheres gives you the second six months of our world calendar. The first six months appeared in the Spring issue.

Teaching Ideas
We have included lesson ideas from two of our four regions. Look for new ideas in the Spring Issue.

Asia:
Brainstorm with your students “Why is Confucius’s Birthday also called Teacher’s Day?”
Borrow a story book on Confucianism from the Center for Asian Studies to use for class research to discover why his birthday is also known as Teacher’s Day.
Have your students report on a figure from U.S. history whose birthday could also be celebrated as Teacher’s Day.

Latin America:
Use both the Fall and Spring newsletter calendars to outline the history of independence in the Americas. What patterns emerge? Is there a geographical pattern? Is there a pattern dependent upon the colonial ruler? Were there common figures/heroes in the independence wars of various countries?

More information on holidays around the world can be found at the website 'Encyclopedia of Days' at <http://www.shagtown.com/days>

Upcoming Events

Hemispheres
AREA STUDIES RESOURCES FOR TEACHERS
AVAILABLE FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT AUSTIN

Hemispheres Newsletter is distributed to schools throughout Texas and the rest of the United States to be shared with social studies, geography, language, English, literature, math, and science teachers within each school. This biannual newsletter is a tool for teachers who use, or would like to incorporate, area studies materials in the classroom.

Please distribute copies of Hemispheres to all who may benefit from our resources!

Hemispheres Listserv You can sign up to receive workshop announcements, and other information from the centers’ outreach programs via this electronic distribution list. We also invite you to use this listserv to communicate with fellow teachers regarding area-studies issues. To subscribe to the list visit the web page at: <http://inic.utexas.edu/hemispheres>
Mark Your Calendars for the Second Annual International Studies Schools Association Conference

A four-day conference for elementary, middle and high school educators

The International Studies Schools Association (ISSA), in cooperation with The Stanley Foundation and Hemispheres, has tentatively scheduled its second annual conference for the weekend of February 13-16, 2003, in New Braunfels, TX.

The ISSA is designed to strengthen and facilitate the integration of international themes and geographic areas throughout the K-12 curriculum. The conference will highlight diverse content areas, discussion, resources, and networking with your peers. This will be an exciting learning opportunity for all educators interested in infusing world studies themes into their classrooms.

You can check out last year's agenda at <http://www.du.edu/issa>.

Please look for more details about the 2003 conference in the Hemispheres monthly listserv (subscription information is on page 5) or contact us at <hemispheres@inic.utexas.edu>. Also, feel free to contact George B. Brown, at 303-871-2405 or <geobrown@du.edu>, for more information about the association.
