MALS Student Professional Development Awards are intended to support undergraduate and graduate students who are either attending a major professional meeting to present an original paper based on their research or to travel to a research site in the continental United States, such as an archive or library, to conduct research in support of a thesis or dissertation project.

Applicants must be registered at UT Austin during the semester the funds are to be used. The requirement for summer registration will be waived if the applicant was registered during the previous spring semester.

A complete application will consist of the following items:

- Cover Letter
- MALS Student Professional Development Award Application
- MALS RTA Form
- Conference/Research Site Verification
- Department Assistance Confirmation

I certify that the information provided in the MALS Student Professional Development Award Application is complete and accurate. I understand that should any of this information be inaccurate, I might be declared ineligible to receive a professional development award, and I will return all funds awarded on the basis of false information. If my financial situation changes, I will promptly notify MALS.
