

Fall 2016

Enrolled Doctoral Students by Year in Program, College of Liberal Arts

As of the fall of 2016, 1,163 students are enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts doctoral programs. 6% of them are between their 8th and 11th year in the program; 20% are in their sixth or seventh year; 55% between their second and fifth year, and 19% are newly enrolled. The distribution by year in the program is recorded below.¹

¹ Year in program is counted since the first enrollment in the program, even if there is a break in enrollment (e.g., leave of absence). Spring and summer enrollments are combined with the fall enrollment for that academic year.
