

Israel Studies | Schusterman Center for Jewish Studies
Application Form and Instructions for the Israel Studies Dual Language Fellowship

Due date: Ongoing

General Eligibility:

Any student enrolled in a graduate or undergraduate program at UT who has completed or is in the process of completing four semesters (or the equivalent) of either Hebrew or Arabic, and demonstrates a commitment to studying at least two semesters of the other language.

Purpose:

To promote the study of both Hebrew and Arabic as critical Middle Eastern languages, key to understanding Israel in its Middle Eastern context.

Amount: Stipend up to $1,000; and possible tuition waiver for UT's Arabic Summer Institute.*

Instructions and Supporting Documents:

Submit this completed form, your CV/resume, and a statement of 600-800 words describing your reasons for pursuing dual-language Arabic and Hebrew study to galit@austin.utexas.edu

Semesters in which funds to be used: Spring 20____ Summer 20____ Fall 20____

Information and Authorization:

Name _____

EID _____

Email _____

Graduate Program or Major(s) _____

Current Mailing Address _____

Language(s) you have studied: Hebrew Arabic Both

Relevant language coursework completed with a passing grade:

HEBREW: _____ semesters

Please specify:

- Fall Spring Summer of 20_____
- Fall Spring Summer of 20_____
- Fall Spring Summer of 20_____
- Fall Spring Summer of 20_____
- Placement (equivalent to _____ semesters)

ARABIC: _____ semesters

Please specify:

- Fall Spring Summer of 20_____
- Fall Spring Summer of 20_____
- Fall Spring Summer of 20_____
- Fall Spring Summer of 20_____
- Placement (equivalent to _____ semesters)

I am committed to taking _____ semesters of Hebrew Arabic before completing my degree program at UT Austin.

I authorize the Israel Studies Scholarship Selection Committee to review my UT-Austin academic record.

Signature _____

Date _____

*Recipients cannot be reimbursed for accommodation with Airbnb according to Texas law.