A MIDSUMMER NIGHT’S DREAM

Now the hungry lion roars,
And the wolf beholds the moon;
Whilst the heavy ploughman snores,
   All with weary task fordone.
Now the wasted brands do glow,
   Whilst the screech owl, screeching loud,
Puts the wretch that lies in woe
   In remembrance of a shroud.
Now is the time of night
   That the graves, all gaping wide,
Every one lets forth his sprite,
   In the churchway paths to glide.
And we fairies, that do run
   By the triple Hecate’s team
From the presence of the sun,
   Following darkness like a dream,
Now are frolic. Not a mouse
Shall disturb this hallowed house.
I am sent, with broom, before,
To sweep the dust behind the door.

—Puck
