Welcome to Spring Shakespeare at Winedale!

We hope you enjoy every minute of your visit here, the play, the students work, the old barn, and the country setting which is Winedale.

The students performing this evening have been exploring The Taming of the Shrew since the beginning of the spring term both in Austin and, on three brief occasions, at Winedale and are eager to share their experiences with you. You will have the opportunity to meet all of them during the brief post-performance reception. I'm sure they will be anxious to hear what you have to say about the play.

We'll have one 10 minute intermission.

The students and I wish to acknowledge the valuable assistance of many in helping us toward this moment: Gloria, Cara, Karel, John, Elroy, Angelene, Norma, Esther, and Linda at the Winedale Historical Center; former students Evans, Sarah, Karen, Liz, Lawrence, and Andy; Clay Maer, Coordinator of the Program; and Professor James Loehlin, Director of Shakespeare at Winedale.

Shakespeare at Winedale has grown from a Fall semester class in 1970 (with eleven students) into a multi-faceted educational program with venues at UT Austin, Winedale, and London. Please have a look at the summer schedule for Julius Caesar, Love's Labour's Lost, and Much Ado About Nothing on the back page and make your reservations early! Our Educational Outreach to Schools Program is growing: we've directed Winedale weekend workshops for several schools during the year and are now busy planning our third summer Shakespeare "Day Camp" at Winedale. This will be the second summer of the special "UTeach Shakespeare through Performance" class, an in-residence program which offers the performance approach to prospective teachers. The 14th annual performance of the 15th Century Secunda Pastorum, performed by school children, on the first Saturday in December, rounds out the year.

Thanks for coming!

Jim Ayres, Founding Director, Shakespeare at Winedale
